

HAQAST

TEXAS

June 1-2

Join us for an in-person meeting of the Health and Air Quality Applied Sciences Team!

Is your organization curious about using NASA satellite tools and data for air quality and health applications?

NASA's Health and Air Quality Applied Sciences Team (HAQAST) invites you to a free and public meeting, June 1st and 2nd, 2022 in Houston, Texas, with in-person and online options!

The HAQAST Texas meeting will feature a mix of stakeholders and researchers covering a range of topics on air quality, public health, and using NASA's publicly available satellite data.

Hilton Houston Plaza Medical Center (via Hilton)

Travel funding is available for stakeholders!

Register now and apply for travel funding at:

haqast.org/haqast-houston-june-1-2/

